

FAQ's

Application Deadline

January 31

Eligibility?

Kentucky students who are currently enrolled in 11th grade (juniors)

Application requirements?

- Completed application
- One letter of recommendation
- Personal statement
- High school transcripts

Cost

There is no cost for participants.

Application link and updates can be found here:

For questions, please contact us at UKAHECSummerCamps@uky.edu

Health Researchers Youth Academy

Educational Activities

Structured curriculum in Physiology and Research Methods where students will perform their own research.

Health professions pathway informational presentations

Poster presentation competition at the end of camp.

Program Overview

The Health Researchers Youth Academy (HRYA) is a 2-week residential camp hosted by the University of Kentucky Area Health Education Center that provides students an inside look at being a healthcare researcher. This includes exposure to various health careers and learning about educational requirements for such professions.

Benefits

- Exposure to various health professions/health professionals
- Sneak peek at college life
- Insight into prerequisites for many health careers
- Resume booster
- Chance for CPR certification

Clinical Activities

Students will be provided an opportunity to observe healthcare professionals in a clinical setting.

Students may get the opportunity to observe research in action.

Students will spend time in two of UK's state of the art simulation centers.

